

maryam Bakhsharie group 24:

1: Focus on comfort and quality of life: Hospice emphasizes respecting a terminally ill person's right to live their final days with dignity, peace, and as little pain as possible. This includes their care and environment. * Palliative care: Hospice prioritizes pain management and symptom relief, rather than curative treatment. * Emotional and spiritual support:

Terminally ill individuals and their family receive emotional spiritual, and practical support to navigate the challenges of their situation.

* medical care: pain management, symptom relief, and other medical services. * Emotional and spiritual support:

counseling, grief support for family and spiritual guidance. * practical support: Assistance with daily tasks like bathing, dressing, and eating.

* Home Health Services: Nurses, social workers, and other healthcare professionals who provide care in the home.

Bereavement support: ongoing support for families after death of their loved one.
