

Test 20

Complex evaluation of health status of children; health groups, criteria for assigning children to health groups

1. Anatomical and physiological features of child organism in different periods of childhood.
2. Negative trends observed in the state of health of modern children.
3. Criteria of children's health. Ways of its evaluation and determination.
4. Indications for assigning children to the 1st health group.
5. Indications for assigning children to the risk group.
6. What groups do children suffering from chronic diseases belong to?
7. Differential medical management of children in different health groups.
8. The algorithm of carrying out preventive measures.
9. Indications for evaluating children's nutrition and choosing a diet according to the indices of a child's health.
10. Recommendations for correcting mental and behavioral abnormalities children.